Date/Time: Friday, June 2, 2017, 9:00 AM to 1:00 PM (REGISTRATION BEGINS AT 8:30 AM)

Fee: This course is FREE

Description: Clinical supervision is an essential part of all clinical programs and is a key component in an evolving system of care. Supervision is a skill that takes time to develop. The CBH Supervision Module will present tools for providing effective clinical supervision through various popular supervision models, methods, and techniques. The curriculum is designed to help clinical supervisors reflect on their supervisory style, balance clinical and administrative duties, and champion the essential principles of supervision.

Target Audience: This intermediate level course is designed for anyone in a supervisory role at a provider within the CBH network.

Location: Community Behavioral Health
Room 1154 B, 11th floor
801 Market Street
Philadelphia, PA 19107

Program Learning Objectives: By the end of this basic overview training, participants will be able to:

- 1) Define the central principles of supervision.
- 2) Describe the difference between clinical supervision and administrative supervision.
- 3) List three different models for supervision.
- 4) Identify methods and techniques to use during supervision.
- 5) Identify at least one ethical issue that may arise in supervision.
